■ THE ANSWER

Two scenarios — and BOTH end with you getting on a flight. SCENARIO 1: AA CAUSED IT (your first flight arrived late). This is the best-case scenario for you. American Airlines MUST rebook you on the next available connection with a CONFIRMED seat — not standby. You also get: meal vouchers during the wait ($15-30), hotel + ground transportation if it becomes overnight, and priority rebooking over other standby passengers. This is all free — AA caused the problem, AA pays. SCENARIO 2: YOU CAUSED IT (you arrived late to the airport and missed your first flight, which made you miss the connection). You still get free standby on the next available flight. Not confirmed, but free. Call +1-855-235-0024 either way — agent handles everything in 2 minutes. The phone is dramatically faster than the connection desk, which can have 200+ people during irregular operations. At hub airports like Dallas (DFW), Charlotte (CLT), Chicago (ORD), Miami (MIA), and Philadelphia (PHL), missed connections happen constantly — AA agents handle thousands per day. Call +1 (855) 235-0024 — 24/7.
